About

Kotlin/Java backend developer with 6 year of commercial experience, working in teams ranging from 5 to 20 members, in both monolith and microservices architectures. Built full cycle of development: from gathering product owner requirements to establishing fully automated release process with high test coverage and cutting edge CI/CD and DevOps practices. Had multiple contributions to Open Source: Spring Projects, Hibernate ORM, Kotlin.

In addition to core Kotlin/Java backend knowledge, has expertise in Kubernetes and microservice-based architecture. Passionate about the evolution of Spring Ecosystem and ML/AI approaches and stay up-to-date with these trends. My hobby is building a personal brand by presenting tech talks at conferences, publishing scientific articles and contributing to Open Source.
